

Informing Her Art

Since earning her GED, Kyla Oehms-Hickman plans to attend a community college and later transfer to a university.

Kyla studied at TJACE's Adult Learning Center in Charlottesville; she describes her classes as the right balance of "freedom plus structure" where group activities were blended with independent study. She is the author of fantasy/science fiction, and she wants to learn as much as she can to inform her writing.
